

TV Licences

Conference Believes;

Students have to pay full TV licences

Students in halls and houses of multiple occupancy are classed as individual tenants and therefore have to pay the full amount.

Further Believes;

Conference believes this is unfair and a further level of taxation upon students.

Students have seen their access to benefits eroded whilst studying.

By this system students are seen as full time working adults

Any barrier to media should be seen as a barrier to information education and further learning and therefore removed.

The current system contributes to the high levels of student debt that learners face.

Conference resolves;

Conference believes that the current system is unfair and contributes to student debt.

NUS resolve to actively campaign through the TV licensing authority and the government to abolish these unfair TV licence charges for students.

NUS should run an online petition voicing students opposition to the current system.
